Pearl River Valley Electric sending crews to Singing River Electric following Hurricane Nate

Pearl River Valley Electric is sending 4 crews to Lucedale, Mississippi to assist Singing River Electric in restoration efforts following the landfall of Hurricane Nate October 8.

The 20-man group includes linemen, servicemen and support personnel. Singing River Electric has reported significant outages in damage to their system as a result of the storm.

"Lending support to our neighboring electrical cooperatives is a common practice," said Randy Wallace, general manager. "Singing River has come to our aid numerous times and we are happy to reciprocate. It is what we do in times of need."

Pearl River Valley Electric experienced only minor damage as Nate skirted the Association's 12-County service territory. The crews are leaving from each of the Association's 4 districts and should be on site by Sunday afternoon.
